*I climbed and stood alone within a Tower
Watching a busy world pass hour by hour,
And while I watched a silent Voice outcried,
"This is your Perspective, Peace, and Power."*

*Our Towers in lofty aspiration rise
Lined fine against the splendor of the skies.
We bend our course along their guiding way
Inquiring where the "one thing needful" lies.*

*The blocks of Stone wherewith these walls were made
Have each their places. There the Workman laid
Them. Each alone of small significance,
Together they defy both Time and Blade.*

*There is a Door where Pupils enter in
To learn of Tin and Gold, and Gold and Tin
And when the Sage and Pupils are no more
The Door will be as it has a'ways been.*

ADMINISTRATION

THRILLER

Through 1929-30 With Butler University

(By MARGUERITE DORIOT)

The year 1929-30—the second year of the greater Butler university on the new Fairview campus—has been marked with notable achievements and successes. Butler has forged ahead with unflinching steps, guided wisely and well by the Board of Directors, headed by Hilton U. Brown. The splendid advancement which the university has made during the past year was made possible only through the keen foresight, sound judgment and untiring energy with which these men worked to further the interests of Butler.

Materially the new campus has been improved until the rough edges have been smoothed and beauty has replaced crudeness and ugliness. Lawns have been graded and sodded, walks, and steps around the Arthur Jordan Memorial hall have been finished, and from time to time work has been done on the roads approaching the building. A welcome and essential improvement was the placing of boulevard lights along the walks to and around Jordan hall.

Fraternity row to the south of the administration building is no longer an unbroken row of vacant, unpromising lots. One new fraternity house has been completed, two are in process of construction, and several more are being projected.

The first outstanding event of the school year was home-coming which was celebrated October 18 and 19. Friday evening the students gathered on the campus for a pep session which was followed by a parade through the down town district. Friends and followers of Butler and other spectators lined the sidewalks to witness the parade made up of floats of all types and descriptions, which were the work of the Greek letter organizations. There followed another pep session and celebration on the steps of the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument.

"Kick-in" was presented by Thespis, dramatic organization, at the Civic theater in November. The annual blanket hop, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, was held in the Travertine room of the Hotel Lincoln November 28 at which time the journalistic fraternity brought forth its yearly razz sheet, bearing the name "The Butler Klejin." The football schedule called for a game with the University of Loyola Thanksgiving day, and the outcome gave the Bulldogs every reason to be thankful. About this time Butler's team traveled to New York for a game with New York university, which was the first game played in the east for a number of years. Butler's old rival, Wabash college, invaded the bowl November 9. The game aroused great interest since a year had passed without competition between the two on the gridiron.

First Row—Arthur Jordan, Emsley W. Johnson, R. A. Long, Mrs. Z. T. Sweeney, Lee Burns, John E. Canaday, Hugh Th. Miller.

Second Row—Arthur V. Brown, Crate Bowen, William C. Smith, Albert C. Snider, William C. Irwin, Clarence L. Goodwin, J. W. Atherton.

The few weeks in December before Christmas vacation were crowded with activities. The banquet in honor of the football team which Blue Key sponsors annually was held at the Campus club. The first banquet ever to be given for members of The Collegian staff was held in the Collegian office December 10. Appointment of editors and reporters for the second semester was made at this time and new plans for the publishing of the Collegian discussed.

December 17 was a notable day, for the announcement came that the Butler basketball team had been chosen national champions for the year 1928-1929. Word was sent by the Veterans Athletic Association of Philadelphia which made the selection. The following day the annual doll show, sponsored by Y. W. C. A. was held. Dolls dressed to represent various phases of college life were entered by organizations.

The Christmas vacation was extended to three weeks, instead of two, on account of an epidemic of spinal meningitis which swept Indianapolis during the holidays. The first prominent affair to be given in the new year was the Matrix Table on January 14. Guests gathered in Caesar's banquet hall (Collegian office) for a Roman banquet which was carried off in true Latin style. Mrs. Daphne Alloway McVicker, a member of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalistic sorority, gave a talk, and members of the local chapter did their share of the "dirtum razzum" listed on the program. A Melting Pot Carnival dance was given by Woman's League January 18 at the Athenaeum, taking the place of the Melting Pot Bazaar and dance of former years.

The annual Geneva stunts, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. to raise money to send delegates to the Y. W. C. A. conference held at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, were given on February 6 at the Meridian Heights Presbyterian church. Several weeks later the men's Geneva stunts, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., were given. Among the spring social events were the sophomore cotillion and of course the big event, the junior prom, held on Friday, April 11. An affair, the one bringing to a close the events of the school year excepting commencement, was the annual June Day celebration and dance on June 2, which was successfully planned and carried out by Woman's League. Glancing back over the sketch of accomplishments and events of Butler for the year past, one can say with pride and truth that the second year of the university on Fairview campus has been one long to be remembered.

Senior Class

The class of 1930 is the second to graduate from the Fairview campus, and exceeds last year's class by thirty members. It has retained more of its original membership than any other graduating class in the history of the university.

A new era in Junior proms was heralded by the class of 1930 with Luke Walton as prom chairman. Wesley Helvey's orchestra from Chicago was secured, the first out of town orchestra that has ever played for a Butler prom. Josephine O'Neill, prom queen, led the promenade with Ignatius Dienhart, class president.

Evan Walker led the class as president in its senior year, with Marjorie Goble, vice-president; Josephine O'Neill, secretary, and Edward Raffensperger, treasurer.

Many seniors received awards for scholarship, literary and oratorical accomplishments and campus leadership on Honor Day, May 8.

Class Day was scheduled for Saturday, June 14, with the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 15. The diplomas were awarded at the Commencement exercises, the seventy-fifth in the history of Butler, which were held on Monday, June 16.

Junior Class

The class of 1931 started its college career with a glorious victory over the sophomores in the class scrap and football game. In the same year, the freshman class inaugurated the Freshman Rose dance, setting the precedent of electing a Freshman Rose to reign over the dance.

Again, in its sophomore year, the class defeated the freshmen in the class scrap.

The Prom of 1930 sponsored by the junior class marked a new step in the development of bigger and better Proms. It was held April 11 at the Indiana Ballroom, and Jean Goldkette's orchestra played. Mayburn Landgraf was general chairman. Marthalon Schoener, as prom queen, led the grand march with Robert Butterworth, the class president.

Robert Butterworth is president of the class. Elizabeth Preston is vice-president, Florence Renn, secretary, and Henry Gibson, treasurer.

Sophomore Class

The year of 1929-1930 has been a most successful and busy one for the members of the class of 1932. Thomas Scanlon was elected president of the class with Elma Rose Sailors, vice-president; Jane Sutton, secretary, and Henry Stegemeier, treasurer. Anna Marie Sander was elected secretary when Jane Sutton left school in midyear.

The Utes Club, sophomore men's honorary organization, was founded by members of the class for the purpose of establishing new traditions and keeping up the old ones. The most important function of the club was to see that the freshmen lived up to all the university traditions. Dick Tyner was elected president of the club with Frank Jones vice-president. The group is petitioning Skull and Crescent, national sophomore honorary.

The Utes sponsored the If Club, freshman organization, which is headed by Allison Koelling. May 1st was set aside as Freshman Day, when the usual class scrap was replaced by tugs of war and other games.

The Sophomore Cotillion, official class dance, was held on May 3. Dick Tyner was chairman of the band committee. Morris Boyd was chairman of the hall committee, Malcolm Snoddy of the finance committee, and Gwendolyn Schort of the programs and favors.

Freshman Class

From all parts of Indiana and elsewhere the members of the 1933 class have come, and a successful lot they have proved to be. As freshmen will, they entered into all forms of campus activity with a vim.

During the school year the "If" club was organized among men in the freshman class and sponsored by the Utes club, a sophomore organization. From this group new members will be chosen each year for the Utes, who are petitioning Skull and Crescent, national sophomore honorary. The annual sophomore-freshman scrap was taken over by the Utes club and they set May 1st as "Freshman Day." So far the freshmen have been successful in painting their numerals on the water tower and putting their class flag on the flagpole.

Edward Campbell was elected president of the class with Mariadna Colburn, vice-president; Mary Lou Thomas, secretary; and Joe Macy, treasurer.

The Freshman Rose dance was held on March 29 at the Municipal Gardens and a silver loving cup was presented to Louise Wyrick, who was chosen as Freshman Rose. Tom Woodard was general chairman of the dance, with Joseph Cahill, ticket chairman; Steve Hadley, hall; Max Mansfield, band; Bill Hoffman, publicity; and Allison Koelling, decoration.

Nearly every club or organization included a large percentage of first year men and women, and these students were prominent in all forms of extra-curricular activity.

Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music

AFFILIATED WITH BUTLER UNIVERSITY

FORMERLY

METROPOLITAN SCHOOL of MUSIC

INDIANA COLLEGE of MUSIC and FINE ARTS

Indianapolis, Indiana

The Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music (formerly the Metropolitan School of Music and the Indiana College of Music and Fine Arts) is just closing its second year.

Arthur Jordan, well-known business man and philanthropist merged these Schools in 1928. Being deeply interested in musical and educational development, his idea is to have an outstanding Music School, which shall have no peer in the Middle West.

With a Foundation of $2,000,000 under which the Conservatory is a beneficiary, administered by Trustees of prominent men of our community, the School has every prospect of growing into the big institution Mr. Jordan expects it to be.

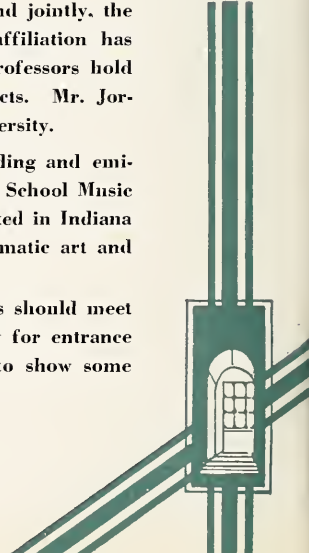

The history of both schools is well known and the same high standard of both will be upheld and maintained in the Conservatory. The courses of study in all branches, leading to the degree are full and up-to-date.

Its progress and growth has been most encouraging and promises to be an asset worthy of the city and state.

The Conservatory is affiliated with Butler University and jointly, the two schools confer Public School Music Degrees. The affiliation has worked to the advantage of both institutions and Butler Professors hold classes in the Conservatory, in the required academic subjects. Mr. Jordan gave the beautiful Jordan Memorial Hall to Butler University.

The members of the faculty are teachers of high standing and eminently fitted for their particular lines of work. The Public School Music course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Music is accredited in Indiana and other states. Besides courses in music, languages, dramatic art and dancing are included in separate departments.

An organ department is maintained where the students should meet the requirements of proficiency in piano that are necessary for entrance to the piano department and in addition should be able to show some adaptability to the study of the instrument. A course in church music and hymnology is a part of this course.

Special students may enter at any time, but will not be accepted for less than one term of ten weeks. Partial course students may take as few lessons as they desire and the work will be credited accordingly; however they must enter classes at the beginning of the year.

Zeta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national musical fraternity; Kappa Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary musical fraternity; Eta Chapter, national honorary and professional musical fraternity, as well as the Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia musical fraternity, a men's organization, are in the Conservatory.

A summer session for the training of Supervisors of Public School Music and grade teachers is scheduled for June 16th-July 18th, 1930. These courses are to apply if necessary on the two and four year and degree courses offered in connection with Butler University. Practically the entire faculty will be available during the summer session.

Four units comprise the Conservatory, the offices being at 1204 N. Delaware Street, at 106 E. North Street, home of the former Metropolitan School of Music; 1116 North Delaware Street and at 3411 N. Pennsylvania Street, known as the North Branch. Until the new home of the Conservatory is ready for occupancy it will function in these several buildings.

A GROUP OF STUDENTS IN THE THEORETICAL CLASSES

Seniors

First Row—Charles J. Geyer, president; Marjorie G. Alexander, Eugene Campbell, Owen Beckley, Barbara Bridges.

Second Row—Mary Helen Brook, Geneva Cochrell, Leroy Decker, Mary Margaret Hirschman, Mary Esther Lawler, Betty Martindale.

Third Row—Rudolph Miller, Milton Mosier, Imogene Pierson, Gladys Power, Vivian Stagle, Margaret Walker.

PIANO CLASS WORK FOR CHILDREN

An important activity recently introduced in the piano department is that of piano class lessons. This plan has swept the country in its appeal to children, parents and teachers.

Thousands of children are in Oxford Piano classes. Parents appreciate the fact that the group association generates a keen and alert rivalry which results in stimulating the mind of the child to quicker activity and quicker accomplishment, and parents may learn in a short time and at a small cost whether or not the child has musical ability. These piano classes for children are conducted at the Conservatory on Saturday morning under the able supervision of Miss Geraldine Trotter.

A Normal Course in piano class work for the private teacher will be given the week of July 7, 1930, at the Conservatory under the leadership of Mrs. Gail Martin Haake, representative of the Oxford Piano Course of Chicago.

The Special Summer Term for supervisors in Public School Music will begin June 16, 1930.

Mu Phi Epsilon

Mrs. Selma Searcy, President Kappa Chapter M. P. E.

Mu Phi Epsilon National Honorary Musical Fraternity granted the Charter for Kappa Chapter in November, 1906, at the Metropolitan School of Music.

Mu Phi has fifty-three Active Chapters and twenty-six Alumnae Clubs located in the United States. Its Chapters are affiliated with Colleges and Conservatories of the highest standing. Membership into Mu Phi is by election awarded for high musical ability, including a thorough ground work theoretically.

The aim of this Fraternity is to encourage and support young musicians in different cities in the United States. Kappa Chapter gives three Musical Teas each year open to the public for the benefit of the Chapter's Scholarship fund. This Scholarship was won by Virginia Levenberger, cellist, this past year, studying with Mr. Adolph Schellschmidt, also, all of her Theoretical work was given her at this school.

Mu Phi Epsilon has a National Club House located in New York City, which affords a home for Mu Phi students in New York.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity

Franklin N. Taylor, President and Supreme Councilman

Alpha Sigma Chapter

A chapter (Alpha Sigma) of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, a national musical fraternity for men, was organized at the Metropolitan School of Music. The object of this fraternity is the development of the truest and best fraternal spirit, the mutual welfare and brotherhood of music students and a loyalty to the Alma Mater.

Phi Sigma Mu

Miss Jeanette Slocum, President, Eta Chapter

Eta Chapter of the Phi Sigma Mu National honorary and professional fraternity for public school music supervisors was installed March 1, 1930, at the Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music.

The officers of the chapter are as follows:

President—Miss Jeanette Slocum.
Vice-President—Mary Margaret Hirschman.
Secretary—Ruth Wagner.
Corresponding Secretary—Olive Black.
Treasurer—Mary Helen Brook.
Historian—Vivian Slagle.
Chorister—Wilma Friddle.

Other charter members are: Beatrice Westfall, Wanita Burris, Mable Zetterberg, Wilma Thompson, and Jeanette Lemon.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Mrs. Frank Hunter, President Zeta Chapter S. A. I.

Mrs. Bernard Batty, Province President

The Zeta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national Musical Fraternity, is the oldest musical fraternity and a member, nationally as well as by chapters, of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

There are fifty-four active chapters, besides the organized alumnae, located in universities and conservatories throughout the country. Each chapter is a real inspiration to its membership, to the whole community.

Zeta Chapter maintains an annual scholarship of $100.00. Public School Music students taking the entire course are eligible.

TRILLER

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

The Student Council of Butler university was founded over one year ago, and since that time has devoted its time to constructive work on school problems. Membership on the council is divided into five seniors, four juniors, and three sophomores, in addition to the president. Two faculty members are elected each year by the council from a list submitted by the president of the university.

George Gisler was president of the council this year; Edward Raffensperger, Annabelle Parr, Maja Brownlee, Marjorie McElroy Mullin, and Evan Walker, senior members; Mary Hoover, Russell Townsend, Mayburn Landgraf, and Donald Youel, juniors; Iris Hollins, Elma Rose Sailors, and Malcolm Snoddy, sophomores.

Faculty advisors were Dr. Janet M. MacDonald and Prof. C. Mervin Palmer.

The council enacted and put in operation a complete set of rules for all of the classes; supervised all elections; codified university rules regarding organizations into an organizations' bill; supervised the student budget; and worked actively on several other projects.

First Row—George Gisler, president; Maja Brownlee, Marjorie Mullen, Annabelle Parr, Ed Raffensperger, Evan Walker, Mary Hoover.

Second Row—Mayburn Landgraf, Russell Townsend, Donald Youel, Iris Hollins, Elma Rose Sailors, Malcolm Snoddy, Genevieve Quinn, secretary.

Men's Union

Men's Union, founded in 1925, serves to bring all Butler men into contact with school activities. Any man in school is eligible to membership upon payment of one dollar. Administration of the organization is carried out by a governing board, comprising Union officers and representatives from the various campus groups.

The Fairview Follies was the main project of the Union. They were presented at Caleb Mills Hall on May 16th and 17th. This year the show was more in the form of a vaudeville.

The first project of the Men's Union this year was an all-school dance, held immediately after the opening of school. A pep session was held on the Monument circle preliminary to the dance, and a snake dance was held around a bonfire on the school campus. These ceremonies served to bring the student body together and acclimate the new freshmen.

Another all-school dance was sponsored by the Union on the night of the DePanw football game.

Field night was held under the auspices of the Union early in the second semester, at the field house. The events were a girls' basketball game, an inter-fraternity game, and a volleyball game between Men's Union and faculty teams.

A novel contest held by the Union was the inter-fraternity and inter-sorority bridge tournament, followed by a series of games between faculty and Union bridge teams.

An Honor Day was celebrated late in the year for outstanding Butler men. Awards were made for athletic prowess and campus activity.

The ultimate aim of Men's Union is establishment of a club house for all school men. The proceeds of all financial enterprises are set aside in a special fund for this purpose.

Norman Brinsley, president; Adolph Emhardt, secretary; Hugh Rominger, treasurer.

Woman's League

Membership in the Woman's League, sponsored by Dean Evelyn Butler, is open to any woman in Butler. An annual activity sponsored by the League is June Day, celebrated on June 2.

Georgia Holder served as president this year. Other officers were Dorothy Lambert, vice-president; Mary Hoover, secretary; and Joan Johnson, treasurer. Under this administration the Woman's League has taken an active part in school improvements. Possibly the best project which they sponsored was obtaining lockers for the school. Another achievement was publication of a school song book, containing school and campus organization songs as well as those of the Big Ten schools and all national fraternities.

In place of the usual Melting Pot Bazaar and dance, the League gave a Melting Pot Carnival dance just before Christmas this year, at which several sororities furnished booths.

An outstanding achievement of the organization this year was sponsoring one evening's performance of a play which presented Jane Cowl, famous actress. The Butler women took charge of the ticket sale for one performance during the play's run at English's theater.

These projects are part of the Woman's League program which is calculated to create a unified spirit among women, to promote a higher moral standard, and to instill in students an enthusiasm for all worthy activities.

Georgia Holder, president; Dorothy Lambert, vice-president; Mary Hoover, secretary; Joan Johnson, treasurer.

Y. M. C. A.

Incoming freshmen this year were received by members of the Y. M. C. A., one of Butler's oldest organizations. The work of orientating the freshmen is a part of the Y. M. C. A. program of fellowship. Several deputation teams were furnished to speak in churches and before young people's societies.

One of Y. M. C. A.'s biggest projects is co-sponsorship with Y. W. C. A. of the annual Christian World Education Conference. Students are excused from class to hear lectures by competent authorities on world problems. This year over 2,200 students attended the conference.

Another project which the Y. M. C. A. shares with Y. W. C. A. is the "Quiet Hour," held on alternate Friday noons. From time to time well known people of Butler have given talks before open noon meetings.

On April 4, 5 and 6 the Butler organization entertained the Officers Training Conference of the Indiana College Y. M. C. A.s.

Five delegates were sent to the Mid-west College Y. M. C. A. Conference at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, with the proceeds of the men's Geneva Stunts. A number of supper meetings were held at which noted lecturers spoke.

Officers for the first semester were Adolph Emhardt, President; Andrew Ramsey, Vice-President; David Day, Secretary; Lewis Robbins, Treasurer. Officers for the second semester were: Wales E. Smith, President; Warren Isom, Vice-President; William Hoffman, Secretary; John Lookabill, Treasurer. Professor Palmer is faculty sponsor.

First Row—Adolph Emhardt, president; Andrew Ramsey, vice-president; David Day, secretary; Norman Brinsley, boy's work; Floyd Ross, orientation.

Y. W. C. A.

Y. W. C. A. has served as a link between Butler and other schools as well as among the women of Butler. The national character of the organization is demonstrated each summer when a delegate is sent to the conference at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Proceeds of the Geneva stunts, presented each year by the various campus organizations in competition, are used to finance the trip.

The tradition of singing Christmas carols through the halls the day before the holiday vacation, was a part of the Christmas program. The Holly Sale, the proceeds of which went to the World's Student Christian Movement, was sponsored by the World Fellowship Committee. Proceeds from the Annual Doll show were given to social service work in hospitals which is being carried on by the Social Service Committee. The Y. W. C. A. also sponsored the second-hand book store.

The officers for the past year were: Florence Renn, President; Ina Lawrence, vice-president; Margaret Barker, secretary; and Martha Vollmer, treasurer.

The Y. W. C. A. room was made more attractive this year by the purchase of drapes and new furniture.

The Advisors for the Association are: Mrs. J. W. Putnam, Miss Gladys Banes, Miss Kathryn Journey and Miss Florence Morrison.

Men's Glee Club

Under the direction of Franklin B. Taylor their new leader who has successfully directed the Butler Women's Glee Club for a number of years, the club has been reorganized. Director Taylor is connected with the Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music and is well known in Indianapolis music circles.

About thirty-five men were selected after try-outs last Fall and these men form the nucleus of the club.

The officers for the present year are Hugh Thatcher, president; Evan Walker, vice-president; Ellis Carroll, secretary, and John Lockabill, treasurer. Arthur Huddleston is the Librarian.

The club has given several programs over the radio this year during the Butler hour over WKBF on Sunday afternoon.

The organization is expected to make its first public appearance in the Fairview Follies which is to be held at Caleb Mills Auditorium, May 16th and 17th.

Third Row—Ed. Bolin, Ruell Moore, Ralph Moore, Perry Carroll, Gordon Thompson, James Everline, William Layton, Ralph Coble.

Fourth Row—Ronald Van Arsdale, Dalton Wicker, Ellis Carroll, Milton Mosier, William Roth, James Lowry, Eugene Campbell, George Runyan, Paul Schenrer.

Women's Glee Club

Franklin Taylor has completed another successful year as director of the Women's Glee club. Since 1926, members of the club have received an hour's credit for their work. Any woman in school is eligible to try out for membership.

A series of church concerts has formed the nucleus of activities this year. The first program was given at the Hillside Christian church. Concerts at New Augusta and Englewood followed, and other church appearances were scheduled for later in the year.

A group of numbers was presented over the radio, and the glee club marched in the Armistice Day parade, creating much comment on the appearance it made in the distinctive uniforms. These uniforms were adopted this year, and carry out the blue and white color scheme of Butler. White sweatshirts are worn, with a blue musical monogram, and berets and skirts complete the outfit.

In addition to a program given at a Shrine luncheon and a concert and dance at the Masonic hall, the glee club has furnished soloists at various times for radio and club programs.

Bessalie Reavis was president, with Miriam Bell, vice-president; Marjory Day, secretary; Ruth Dale, treasurer; and Anne Cooper, librarian. Virginia Harbaugh is the accompanist.

Third Row—Irene Spurgeon, Lucille Mock, Dorothy Randall, Oma Aley, Marian Schleiher, Edna Schoen, Thelma Bingman, Helen Tumbleson, Lilyan Brafford.

Band

The Butler Band has played an important part in the development of the university, since it was organized by Mr. J. B. Vandaworker some ten years ago. These years of service were culminated this year when Beta Mu Sigma, a fraternity organized among band members, received a charter from Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity. Thompson Abbott is president of the new organization.

Since 1925 the band has taken frequent trips with the football team to the various Big Ten games, and has presented a snappy appearance in its blue uniforms and Sam Browne belts. In the fall of 1928 capes were added to the uniforms by popular subscription among students and friends of Butler.

At an annual banquet held in February, senior members of the band receive sweaters for four years of service.

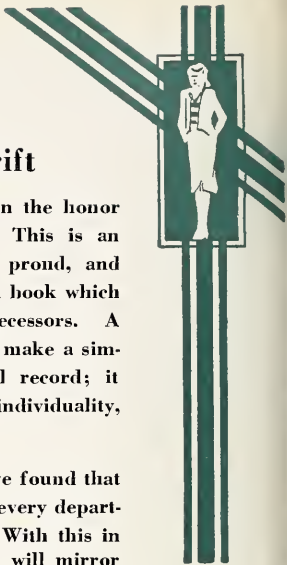

Band practice is held each Monday and Wednesday, and members receive an hour of credit. Band may be elected in place of the physical education requirement. J. B. Vandaworker is director, Virgil Hebert is student director and Thomas Scanlon is drum major.

The Butler Drift

To the Junior class is given the honor of publishing the year book. This is an honor of which we are justly proud, and each staff attempts to produce a book which will surpass that of our predecessors. A staff strives to do more than to make a simple pictorial and typographical record; it would produce a book that has individuality, which is artistic and beautiful.

When we started to work we found that college life is very complex and every department must be justly included. With this in mind the 1930 staff has attempted to produce a book which will mirror life, as it is on our campus, so that others viewing the reflection will see here real people working and playing together developing characteristics which will later be useful.

There is however, quite a step from a vague idea to a finished book, a step which called for cooperation of editorial, art and business staffs.

Second Row—Crispin Lloyd, sports; Lilyan Brafford, classes; Ruth Robison, women's athletics; Miriam Cosand, poetry; Beatrice Burgan, honoraries.

We have tried to portray with originality and accuracy the college year, to conform to the rules of college annual publications, to pass the faculty censorship,—throw this on a background of financial limitations and you have the task of a college annual staff. The campus will judge the first; the second will fall upon college annual experts. If we didn't succeed in the third we'll hear about it soon enough. If you are the victims through any error or omission in this book, please remember that we are not infallible but only human. If we succeed in producing a book of which the Junior class is not ashamed, we are satisfied.

J. RUSSELL TOWNSEND, JR.
Business Manager

The 1930 DRIFT is most grateful to all those who have assisted in compiling this book; to the Indianapolis Engraving and the William Mitchell Printing Companies for their cooperation and service; to Hilliary G. Bailey, photographer deluxe; and the David J. Molloy Company who prepared such an artistic cover for our annual.

First Row—Robert Blackburn, Maurice Boyd, assistant business managers; Ralph Walton, staff photographer; Honor Gregory, proof reader; Betty Jeanne Davis, sorority editor.

Not on Panel—Wendell Shullenberger, fraternity editor; Alberta Reep, mounting.

The Collegian

The Butler Collegian, now in its forty-fourth year of publication, has grown from a semi-monthly paper with a literary aspect to a place of prominence among daily college newspapers of the country. It is published under the supervision of the department of journalism, and the nucleus of the staff is made up of students in the department. Any student who is interested, however, may earn a place on the staff by writing three stories each week.

The Collegian has leased wire service from the United Press, and offers an opportunity for practical newspaper training to embryo journalists. Robert I. Boyer was managing editor for the first semester and Joseph Thomas was in charge the second. Norman Buchan, instructor in the journalism department, is faculty advisor.

With a large staff of reporters, the Collegian has complete news coverage of all departments of the university. In addition, the business places, churches and clubs of the north side are covered for the community edition, which appears once a week. All matters of news judgment and various problems of ethics and policy are decided by the student editors except in cases where the policy of the university is involved.

This year, for the first time, various prizes in gold were offered by organizations and individuals for excellence in work done on the Collegian. These awards, which were made on Honor Day, included recognition of the best piece of reporting, the best news story, the best feature story, the best makeup and others.

Just before the Christmas holidays, the entire staff was entertained by the journalism department in the first annual Collegian Christmas banquet. It was held in the large day editorial office in the basement of the Arthur Jordan Memorial hall, and announcements of the second semester staff were made.

Night work is done at the night editorial office which is on East Market street. Here the last minute wire flashes and other news are handled.

Remarkable development has resulted from the added facilities gained when Butler moved to the Fairview campus. This is signified not only in the increased interest in journalism and the publication of the community edition, but in the addition to the masthead of police reporters, dramatic critics and other positions as well.

The Tower

The literati of Butler found expression in 1927 when Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, founded the quarterly magazine, the Cocoon. The purpose of the publication was disclosed in the foreword of the first number—"The Cocoon—the embodiment of Butler's literary life, beginning in a humble form and aspiring to develop into something fine and beautiful with the passing of years."

When Butler moved to Fairview the name of the publication was changed to the Tower. Under the direction of Mrs. T. G. Wesenberg of the English department the Tower has appeared regularly four times each year.

Contributions of poems, essays, stories and book reviews are solicited from the student body. This year the Tower was put under the supervision of the journalism department and budgeted so that regular publication is assured.

Edwin Ogborne is editor for this year and Miriam Cosand is associate editor. Members of the editorial staff are Elizabeth Davis, Rodney Perkins, Evelyn Mendenhall and Crispin Lloyd. Perry Tewalt is business manager and Elizabeth Dawson is art editor.

In connection with the Cocoon, literary contests were projected in an effort to bring out literary talent in the school. The winning manuscripts in the Butler Literary Contest are published each year in the Tower.

Der Deutsche Verein

The biggest achievement of Der Deutsche Verein, Butler German club, this year, was presentation of a play in German. "Die Kliemen Kerwandten" was given with Florence Rathert, Miriam Foreman, Helma Kahn, Erwin Schaefer, Karl Brandt, and Henri Stegemcier in the various roles.

The play was a high point in the efforts of the Verein to cultivate interest in German culture and literature. Meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month, and speakers who have lived or travelled in Germany are heard. A picnic is held each June, and German refreshments are served.

Officers for the past year were Louise Reiter, president; Florence Rathert, vice-president; and Albert Marshall, secretary-treasurer. Faculty sponsors are Professor and Mrs. Milton D. Baumgartner, Miss Juliana Thorman and Miss Violet Beck.

Second Row—M. W. Renn, Violet Beck, Dorothy Kohlstaedt, Ethel Lentz, Alma Dammeyer, Florence Rathert.

Third Row—Rosalie Schell, Florence Renn, Albert Marshall, Miss Julianna Thorman, Rexford Daubemire, Erwin Schaefer.

Fourth Row—Henri Stegemcier, Ehner Blatt, William Taylor, Adolph Emhardt, Professor Baumgartner, Charles Rhodes, Max Einstaudig, Karl Braudt.

Mathematics Club

Math club was founded in 1922 under the sponsorship of Professor Elijah N. Johnson, head of the mathematics department. Problems suggested by classroom study were discussed at the meetings, held on the first Thursday of each month.

The organization came to the Fairview campus under its new name of Mathematics club, with a membership of thirty students drawn from all those interested in the science. Meetings are informal in character, and current mathematical problems and discoveries are reviewed. Programs are given by the members and speakers from the faculty or prominent mathematicians.

Present sponsors are Professor Johnson, Miss Gladys Banes and Miss Juna Lutz. Officers are Margaret Barker, president; Gladys Hawickhorst, vice-president; Dorothy Byers, secretary, and Kathryn Maurer, treasurer.

Second Row—Wilhemina Feaster, Miss Juna Lutz, Dione Kerlin, Miss Gladys Banes, Ruth Sparks, Genevieve Clark, Marifrances Douglass, Florence Ruthert.

Third Row—Dorothy Saxon, Virginia Kelly, Laura Garrison, Annabelle Parr.

Fourth Row—Edgar Williams, Ralph Urbain, Ray Urbain.

Zoology Club

Under the direction of Professor Henry Lane Bruner, head of the zoology department, the Zoology club has carried out a program calculated to interest the students of the department in the practical and theoretical research of the science.

Most prominent of the club's activities is the awarding each year of the Woods Hole scholarship to the student who has done the most outstanding work in zoology for the year. The scholarship provides for a summer's study at the Marine Laboratories at Woods Hole, Massachusetts.

Meetings are held the second Tuesday in each month under the sponsorship of the zoology department faculty. Any student in the department is eligible for membership. Officers for this year were Hugh Thatcher, president; Fred Baumgartner, vice-president; Dorothy Stoelting, secretary, and Bob Prettyman, treasurer.

Third Row—Gerald Sharree, Carlyle Bauermeister, Sidney Zier, Hugh Thatcher, Frederick Baumgartner, Howard Hunt, Norman Peine, Hurley Risk.

Fourth Row—Delmar Ray, Prof. Russell Weber, Reuben Beabout, Prof. Henry Nester, Ernest Meizingo, Loring Lowe, Frank Oliphant, Wendell Shullenberger.

International Relations Club

International Relations club is in its fourth year on the campus. Organized under the sponsorship of Professor A. Dale Beeler of the history department, it has attempted in various ways to promote understanding of world problems among the students.

One of the important projects of the club is a dinner given each semester in honor of the foreign students in the university. Eighty guests attended the first one this year, at which the speaker was Dr. Woodburn, professor emeritus of history at Indiana university.

Membership is composed largely of students in the department of history and political science. Regular meetings are held at which speakers of note talk on various problems on international relations. Officers this year were Valentia Meng, president; Bertha Furstenberg, vice-president; Frances Shera, secretary, and Warren Isom, treasurer.

Third Row—Lewis Robbins, Frances Shera, Albert Marshall, Betty Lower, Wales Smith, Martha Gowdy, Neta Williams, Esther Huber, Curtis Hunter, Georgia Jean Giddings.

Fourth Row—Warren Isom, Ray Bennet, Margaret Gowdy, Milton Green, Victor Griffin.

The Catalyst Club

In 1923 the Catalytic club was organized among advanced students in the chemistry department. When Butler moved to Fairview, the club was lost sight of in the midst of the reorganization activities.

This year the club was revived and the name changed to Catalyst club. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday in each month under the direction and sponsorship of Professor Guy S. Shadinger and Professor Karl S. Means. Speakers are obtained to present talks on the functions of chemistry in industry.

Members are upperclassmen in the department of chemistry, and devote part of the meetings to observation of the practical application of the theories they have been studying.

Albert Marshall has been president for this year, with Don Youel, vice-president; Lois Ann Hodgin, secretary, and John Eastes, treasurer.

Second Row—John Eastes, Edmund Huxley, August Hasewinkle, Ben Goldman, Robert Hutto, Fred Sauer, Alfred Jones.

Third Row—Rudolf Pfister, Sidney Stevens, Harold Vebling, Kenneth Comer, Arlington Rhodes.

Growlers

The Growlers were organized this year to take the place of the Lion Tamers, who instilled so much pep into the student body at the games last year. Twenty-one men were selected to form the organization, headed by Robert Ford.

Blue and white canes were adopted as official insignia, and the Growlers sat together at all games and led the cheering sections. Between halves they gave special stunts for the crowd's entertainment, and gave novelty yells during the games.

During the football season the club sponsored several pep sessions, one on the Monument circle and another on the campus with a large bonfire. They also planned the pep session which was held at the 38th street Monon station when the team left for Northwestern.

The Growlers have filled the place among the men students that the Bluesters have supplied for the girls, and a notable renaissance of school spirit has followed their activities.

Second Row—Reuben Beabout, Charles Williams, Bert Nelson, M. W. Renn.

Bluesters

Five girls were selected from each sorority as the nucleus of the Bluesters, organized this year by Miss Louise Schulmeyer of the Physical Education department. The purpose of the organization was to arouse enthusiasm at athletic events, and became so popular that the membership grew to one hundred.

The Bluesters, dressed in the official garb of blue berets, white jerseys and blue skirts, occupied a special section in the bleachers at each game. Drills and formations were worked out and presented between halves. Coed cheering during the games was led by the Bluesters, who also extended their activities to rousing spirit on the campus.

Dorothy Lambert has been president of the club during its first year.

National Collegiate Players

Membership in the National Collegiate Players is the highest dramatic achievement possible in Butler. The Butler chapter, Pi Epsilon Delta, was chartered in 1925. Members are chosen from Thespiis, and must be upper-classmen with at least a B average, have participated in one of the big plays presented by Thespiis, and have written and directed a play. The pin is a golden key with the classic masks of comedy and tragedy.

A SCENE FROM "KICK IN"

Thespis

Organized in 1927, Thespis has served as the testing ground for aspirants to membership in the National Collegiate Players. Members of Thespis are selected by tryouts and must have taken some course in the Public Speaking department. From these members the National Collegiate Players, national dramatic honorary, recruits its membership.

Thespis has produced two big plays this year; "Kick In" and "Milestones." In addition, a number of Noontide Plays have been given in the Thespis workshop, where a nominal admission was charged. The organization has taken over a room in the basement of the Arthur Jordan hall, and outfitted it with a stage and seats. Work on the room, which included a large modernistic stage curtain, was done by the Thespians in their spare time.

Curtis Hunter was president with Ruth Benefiel vice-president; Anna Lee Howell, recording secretary; Ruth Robison, corresponding secretary and Carl Brandt, treasurer.

Second Row—Ray Brock, Mary Jane Morris, Ruth Robison, Rose Hay, Margie Walden, Mildred McCormick, Vera Smolgrass, Pearl Bartley, Curtis Hunter.

Fourth Row—Ed Osborne, Ed Greene, Lillian Pierson, Ruth Benefick, Martha Gowdy.

Tau Kappa Alpha

Butler has the mother chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, national debating fraternity, which was organized on the campus in 1908. Since its founding the fraternity has grown until today seventy-eight chapters are located in American universities.

Although the national organization is coeducational, no women have been admitted to the Butler chapter, as Delta Phi, national women's debating fraternity, is located on the campus.

Tau Kappa Alpha was organized for the purpose of creating a higher standard of oratory and greater excellence of public speaking among its members. Only those who have participated in at least two intercollegiate debates are eligible to wear the watch charm of key and scroll. Initiation is held each spring after the debating season has been concluded.

The president of Tau Kappa Alpha is J. Clyde Hoffman, Jr. Charles F. Barry, Jr. is vice-president and Adolph G. Emhardt, Jr. is secretary. The national quarterly periodical is The Speaker.

Women's Debating

Although the women's debate team started the season with only one experienced member, it enjoyed a very successful year. A large squad was maintained during the entire season and many women received valuable training for the team next year. During the first semester Mr. C. H. Walters coached the squad, and in the second half of the year the women were coached by Professor Claude E. Sifritt.

Only four debates were scheduled for the season; one with Wheaton College, two with the University of Cincinnati, and one with the College of the City of Detroit. The question for all the debates was, Resolved: that the chain store system is detrimental to public welfare. The Affirmative team, composed of Gretchen Kemp, Julia North, and Margaret McLaughlin, was defeated by Wheaton College but traveled to the University of Cincinnati to conquer the Negative team from that school. The Butler Negative team was made up of Helen E. Johnston, Clara I. Schell, and Clementine Casmire. They scored victories over the Affirmative team from the University of Cincinnati and also over the College of the City of Detroit in that city. Julia Randall was alternate for the Affirmative team and Ruth Marie Price, for the Negative.

Between semesters the women's team, together with the men's team, sponsored a debaters' dance in honor of Mr. Walters who was leaving for Wisconsin to complete graduate work.

Men's Debating

To the men's debating team for this year goes the honor of having met and defeated Harvard by a popular vote of the audience. Edward Fillenworth, Norman Robinson and Paul Duncan composed the team which successfully upheld the negative of the question, "Resolved: that the Harvard plan for the enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment should be adopted." Eugene McManamon managed this debate.

An affirmative and a negative team each won and lost one debate on the question, "Resolved: that there should be a route for ocean-going vessels from the Great Lakes by way of Montreal." The affirmative team, composed of Charles Allen, Walter Johnston and Charles Drake, won from Oakland City and lost to Earlham. The negative, with Eugene McManamon, Henry Hurt and Paul Duncan, won from Wabash and lost to DePauw.

On the question, "Resolved: that the United States should adopt a policy of complete disarmament except for such forces as are required for police forces," the affirmative won from Cincinnati and were defeated by Detroit. Members of the affirmative were Harold J. Cohen, Adolph Emhardt and Edward Fillenworth. The negative on this question, with William Weiss, Alfred Jones and Robert Andry, met DePauw and Cincinnati in non-decision debates, lost to Detroit and Bucknell.

Three veterans and nine new men composed the teams this year, and Professor Sifritt, the coach, will have nine of these men next year.

Phi Kappa Phi

Excellence in scholastic attainment may be rewarded in the senior year by election to Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity. Members are selected on the basis of their scholarship after the freshman year and activity on the campus. The Butler chapter was established in 1922.

Election of members is made by the faculty members of the fraternity twice each year from the upper quarter of the senior class. An average of three from each class of alumni may also be chosen for membership. Edward Buddenbaum, Rex Daubenmire, Martha Vollmer, Anne Withers, George Gisler, Eleanor Ross, Mary Mahan, Louise Reiter were the first semester selections this year.

Officers of the fraternity are elected from the faculty members. This year the officers were Professor Milton D. Baumgartner, president; Professor Guy Shadinger, vice-president; Miss Helen Hoover, secretary; and Professor A. Dale Beeler, treasurer.

Besides offering an incentive by the honor of membership, Phi Kappa Phi actively endeavors to promote scholarship and leadership among Butler students.

Members elected the later part of April were: Howard Anderson, Robert Andry, Martin Barnett, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Bolander, Elizabeth Burford, Mrs. Pauline Burkher, Dorothea Butz, Reatha Inman, Nancy Lentz, Helen Lillie, Floyd Ross, Margaret Snyder, Martha Willis, Horace Wright.

Scarlet Quill

Possibly the most coveted honor in Butler's social system is membership in Scarlet Quill, senior honorary for women. Corresponding to Torch and Scarf club in the sophomore year and Chimes in the junior, Scarlet Quill has maintained the highest standards in scholarship and campus activities since its inception in 1921. The group was founded for the purpose of petitioning Mortar Board, national senior honorary. Members are chosen each year from the twelve outstanding girls in the junior class.

Annabelle Parr, president, and Mrs. T. G. Wesenberg, sponsor, have led the organization in its program of campus activity this year. Notable among Scarlet Quill's projects is the annual presentation of a year's scholarship to an outstanding girl in the sophomore class. Gladys Hawickhorst received the scholarship this year. Funds for the scholarship are raised by an annual bridge party.

Another annual project of the organization is sponsoring the Homecoming celebration in cooperation with Blue Key. The dance which was held this year on the evening of Homecoming was also sponsored by Blue Key and Scarlet Quill.

Chimes

Chimes, the Junior honorary for women, was founded in 1924 by Dean Evelyn Butler. The members of this organization act in an auxiliary capacity to the Dean of Women in helping to acquaint Freshman girls with Butler institutions, customs and traditions, in encouraging them through cordial personal contact and in stimulating them to high scholastic endeavor.

Early in May eight girls are chosen from the Sophomore class, activities and personality being the deciding factors in the selection. These girls are initiated before the close of school. Alumni members of Chimes are present at the initiation and banquet following.

Before the opening of college in the fall, each girl entering for the first time receives a letter from "Chimes" welcoming her to Butler. "Vouchers" who are chosen from prominent junior and senior women assist the Chimes "colleagues" by writing personal letters to Freshmen and giving afternoon teas at which time the guests are aided with any problems which puzzle them in matriculating. Members of the organization assist the Dean of Women and the Registrar during the two days of registration.

In the fall Chimes extended personal invitations to every Freshman girl to attend an informal wiener roast down along the canal. Also in February a party was given at the Campus Club in honor of the second semester Freshmen.

Officers: Florence Renn, president; Virginia Hill, vice-president; Beatrice Burgan, secretary, and Gladys Hawickhorst, treasurer.

First Row—Constance Glover, Virginia Hill, Beatrice Burgan, Gladys Hawickhorst, Florence Renn, president; Mildred Sullivan.

Second Row—Lois Young, Maja Brownlee, Elizabeth Evans, Virginia Flowers, Eleanor Hadd, Dorothy Lamheri, Ruth Robison.

Torch

To foster the principle of democracy and good fellowship is the endeavor of Torch, woman's sophomore honorary, founded in 1920 as Phi Delta Phi. To strengthen this spirit two sophomores from each sorority and two non-sorority women are elected to membership each fall on the basis of excellence in scholarship, womanliness and service.

The colors of Torch are black and white and the pin is a flaming gold torch, formed by the Greek letters Phi Delta Phi.

The largest project of the organization is the annual all-coed Kid Kaper, first held in 1921 and given this year April 9 at the Campus Club.

The invitation list includes all the university women students who seemingly delight to act kiddish again, for at this Kaper sophisticated coeds compete with their natural girlish naivete and assume boyish camaraderie for prizes awarded to the funniest and cleverest characterizations of Kids.

Lollipops, curls, rompers, socks, teddybears and other childish accessories are looked upon as substitutes for door cards of admittance.

Dancing, incongruously collegiate and grown-up, featured the entertainment this year with music provided by Hugh Mason and his Pirate Synopators. A Raggedy Ann dance was given by Edith Yundt and Vera Wyrick, and Maxine Ornbaum sang blues songs.

Torch members acting as hostesses and nursemaids were dressed in black satin dresses and white lace aprons and caps. They supervised the "playgrounds" and appeased childish appetites with appropriate refreshments.

Officers for the year were: Margaret Barker, president; Florence Renn, vice-president; Mildred Sullivan, secretary, and Gladys Hawickhorst, treasurer.

First Row—Margaret Barker, president; Florence Renn, vice-president; Mildred Sullivan, secretary; Gladys Hawickhorst, treasurer; Louise Adney, Margaret Bradburn, Lillian Bradford, Iris Branigin, Anita Brownlee.

Second Row—Beatrice Borgan, Ruth Dale, Marguerite Doriot, Mary Frances Douglas, Alice Gentry, Iris Hollins, Helma Kahn, Katherine Maurer, Mildred McCormick.

Third Row—Elma Paul, Ruth Raffensperger, Elma Rose Sailors, Hilda Schmidt, Gwendolyn Schort, Vera Snodgrass, Ruth Sparks, Virginia Taylor, Lois Young, Rosemary Woodworth.

Scarf Club

Scarf Club, an honorary society for freshman women, was founded at Butler in 1921 under the guidance of Miss Corinne Welling, associate professor of English, who has since served as faculty sponsor. The club is a purely social and charitable organization. Its avowed purpose is to promote good fellowship and cultural pursuits among underclassmen and to bring about increased support of campus activities by the student body.

Membership in Scarf Club is limited to one freshman and one sophomore from each sorority and an equal number of non-sorority girls. The sophomores are active members of the group. Freshmen are pledged early in the fall semester, being chosen on the basis of their records in high school. They remain pledges throughout the year, and are initiated just before the end of school.

Scarf Club freshmen wear black and white pledge pins. White silk scarfs with the name of the organization in black letters are worn by sophomores. Mary Brown served as 1929-30 president of the group; Arline Repp as vice-president; Ann McDevitt, secretary; and Iris Hollins, treasurer. Theresa Bagnoli was pledge president.

Scarf Club holds various social functions throughout the year. One big party for freshmen is given each semester. A St. Patrick's Day party, for which Arline Repp was general chairman, was given at the Campus Club March 17. The organization also takes charge of the serving of breakfast at the university's annual June Day.

The charitable undertakings of the club consist of Thanksgiving dinners given to poor families, and toys given to Riley hospital children at Christmas. Meetings are held once every two weeks at the various sorority houses or at homes of the members.

Second Row—Isabella Campbell, Margaret Shively, Ann McDevitt, Ruth Duffy, Jeanette Palmer, Virginia Mitch, Wilhelmina Feaster, Martha Metcalf, Doris Arnold, Ardith Whitmire, Grace Miller, Dorothy Sexton.

Third Row—Mary Helen Dunnington, Ruth Pahud, Vera Grey Hinshaw, Dorothy Grimes, Mary Finch, Thelma Flack, Marjorie Lytle.

Sphinx

Sphinx was organized as a local campus organization in 1920. Charter members were representatives of the national fraternities with chapters at Butler, and the national charter was received the next year. Installation was by a team from the Wabash chapter.

Ideals of the group are cultivation of an interest in extra-curricular projects and maintenance of high standards and good fellowship among the undergraduates. Members are selected from the national fraternity men who have showed the greatest interest in athletic and other activities.

Twenty-six men comprise the group this year, sixteen of whom are pledges. Stewart Holmes is president and Robert Ford is secretary-treasurer. The pledge ribbons are in the fraternity colors of black and white, and the active pin is a gold sphinx head.

Second Row—Harlan Hadley, Clark Hayes, Virgil Hebert, Kenneth Hufford, Lowell McPherson, Clifford Michaels, Ruell Moore.
Third Row—George Naftzger, Frank Schmedel, Harrison Smitson, Robert Steger, James Strahl, Crawford Yeazel.

Blue Key

Skulls chapter of Blue Key was established on the Butler campus in 1926 as the twentieth chapter of the national honorary fraternity, founded at the University of Florida in 1924.

Before the granting of the national charter, the chapter existed at Butler as Skulls Club, founded in 1920 by "Pat" Page, then football coach. Its membership was originally composed of athletes, its purpose to promote fellowship among "B" men.

The membership of Blue Key is now limited to prominent junior and senior men, chosen on the basis of campus achievements and interest in activities. Over twenty men were pledged last fall, and were initiated April 9 at the Columbia Club, preceding a banquet in their honor.

The fundamental purpose of Blue Key is service to the university, in addition to the purpose of promoting school spirit and interest in school activities. George "Potsy" Clark is faculty advisor.

Throughout the football season, Blue Key sponsored stunts which were presented between halves. Nish Dienhart, president of the fraternity, dropped a football from an airplane at the opening of each game.

The greatest homecoming in the history of Butler was opened with a mammoth parade, in which hundreds of floats and cars participated. Phi Delta Theta was awarded a silver loving cup by Blue Key for the best fraternity float in the parade.

Following the parade, a pep session was held in Monument Circle, the Hon. L. Ert Slack, then mayor, presiding. Hundreds of members of the Order of Red Men attended, as well as the members of the Haskell football team.

Blue Key and Scarlet Quill held a football dance after the Haskell Indian game. Next event of importance was the annual football banquet, which was attended by one hundred guests, including members of the varsity and freshman teams, members of the Board of Directors, and others.

In the early spring a banquet in honor of the honorary members was given. These members are Arthur V. Brown, member of the Board of Directors; John W. Atherton, financial secretary of the university; Wallace O. Lee, vice-president of the Indianapolis Power and Light Company; Russell G. Weber, assistant professor of zoology; DeForest O'Dell, head of the department of journalism, and George Schumacher, alumni secretary and instructor in English. Prof. Ralph W. Keahey is also a member of Blue Key.

Nish Dienhart was president; Evan Walker, vice-president, and Edward Raffensperger, secretary-treasurer, during this school year.

First Row—Ignatius Dienhart, Evan Walker, Ed Raffensperger, George Fredenberger, Ralph Walton.

Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, was founded at DePauw in 1909 and established at Butler in 1926. During the past year the organization has been one of the most active on the campus. The annual Blanket Hop, various popularity contests, and a banquet in honor of Edwin V. O'Neal, national president of Sigma Delta Chi are among the activities fostered by the group this year. The chapter also selected each week during the football and basketball seasons the one person who had shown the most school spirit and loyalty. An award was made to one of this group at the close of each schedule.

The Spring Sheet Swirl at the Municipal Gardens topped the spring activities of the organization.

Theta Sigma Phi

Alpha Iota chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, woman's national journalistic fraternity, was installed at Butler in March, 1927. The honor of membership is conferred upon women who have shown outstanding ability in journalism by activities on the Collegian staff.

At the spring initiation this year Miss Kathryn Pickett, woman's editor of the Indianapolis Star, Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds Collins, also of the Star staff and Miss Mabel Wheeler, feature writer for the Indianapolis News, were made honorary members of the organization. Four students were pledged shortly after the second semester began: Elizabeth Carr, Rosemary Bretzman, Dorothy Quick and Honor Gregory.

The Matrix table, annual banquet held by each chapter of the fraternity, was presented this year at Butler as Caesar's dinner. Rome was built in a day in the Collegian office and the hostesses, garbed in togas of the Roman State reclined on couches before the laden Caesar's table.

"Dirtum razzum" was led by "Caesar" Robison who also introduced the orator, Mrs. Daphne Alloway McVicker, a Theta Sigma Phi from Columbus, Ohio.

Guests at the banquet included prominent junior and senior women, seven outstanding sophomores, prominent Theta Sig alumnae, Mrs. DeForest O'Dell, faculty sponsor, Dean Evelyn Butler, Mrs. Beulah Brown Fletcher, prominent journalist, and representatives from the chapters at Indiana and DePauw.

The June Day edition of the Collegian is always put out by Theta Sigma Phi.

The pin is a gold Matrix with the Greek letters Theta Sigma Phi inscribed on it. The pledge ribbon is lavender and green, tied around a pen.

Second Row—Kathryn Tressel, Martha Vollmer, Beatrice Burgan, Adelaide Reeves.
Absent—Myra Auerbach.

Kappa Tau Alpha

Kappa Tau Alpha is the newest journalistic organization on the campus. It was formally installed at a banquet at the Columbia Club on December 17, 1929, after members had been elected and organization perfected in the spring before. Kappa Tau Alpha is a scholastic fraternity for journalists and is known as "the Phi Beta Kappa of journalism." It was founded at Illinois university and permission for the local chapter was granted in the spring of 1929.

The first members were chosen by the faculty of the journalism department on the basis of excellency in scholarship. Future members are to be elected by the active chapter from those eligible scholastically.

Second Row—Prof. George Harris, Prof. Norman Buchan, Robert Boyer, Kathryn Tressel, Maynard Lemen, Rosemary Bretzman, Prof. Douglas Perry, Prof. DeForest O'Dell, Evan Walker.

Utes Club

One of the newest groups on the campus was organized this year among men in the sophomore class and adopted the name of Utes Club. The organization is petitioning Skull and Crescent, national honorary fraternity for sophomore men. Members of the Utes Club attended the national convention of Skull and Crescent this year. The convention was held at the University of Illinois, and the Butler group drove to Champaign in a body.

The principal activities of Utes Club this year have been concerned with the initiation of freshmen into the customs and traditions of the university. To this end the sophomore group organized the If Club among the freshmen. From this group the Utes chose the pledges to their organization, who were announced at the sophomore cotillion. The Utes also took charge of the class scrap, which took the form of inter-class games and contests. The ceremonies were held in May this year, instead of in the fall as usual.

Officers are Dick Tyner, president; Frank Jones, vice-president; Tom Butz, secretary, and Maurice Boyd, treasurer.

First Row—Herbert Sweet, Abraham Letiff, Richard Tyner, Ralph Coble, Jesse Pritchett.
Second Row—Lewis Ruffi, Charles Sohl, Maurice Boyd, Herman Brown, William Ogden, Frank Jones.
Third Row—Ralph Brandt, Lyle Withrow, Tom Butts, Jack Ranney, Gustave Douglas, Hugh Rominger, Richard Wolfe.

B. U. S. T. A.

The Butler University Student Teachers Association, organized in 1923, is composed of students in the Education department who have maintained a scholastic average of B— or better. The members of the association do practice teaching in the schools of the city as part of their work in the education department.

Kappa Delta Pi, national educational fraternity, has invited B. U. S. T. A. to submit a petition for a charter from the national organization, and the activities of the association this year have been largely confined to work on the petition. Professor George Roberts of Purdue, a national officer of Kappa Delta Pi, and other nationally known educators have appeared before the association to present talks.

Dorothy Lambert has served as president this year. Reatha Inman is vice-president, Anne Withers, secretary, and Josephine O'Neill, treasurer. Professors Shultz and Richardson of the Education department are sponsors.

The Representative Students

Realizing the tremendous task of choosing eight upper classmen (four seniors and four juniors) that are predominantly representative of Butler University from the recognized standpoints of service and scholarship, the staff of the 1930 Drift has given this choice to a committee composed of three faculty members and two members of the student body. Those casting votes were Dean Evelyn Butler, Mr. George Schumaker, Miss Corinne Welling, Mr. Joseph Thomas and Miss Martha Vollmer.

It is felt by the committee that these men and women have worked with untiring zeal and endeavor for their ideal of a Greater Butler. In recognition of this fact, the Drift expresses its belief in their worth and their service to the University.

Those given honorable mention were Josephine O'Neill, Virginia Flowers, George Gisler, Betty Jeanne Davis, Ralph Walton, Dorothy Lambert, Ignatius Deinhart and Wendell Shullenberger.

GEORGE POTSY CLARK

Director of Athletics

George Potsy Clark, a great quarter-back in his college days at the University of Illinois, has in the three years he has been connected with Butler athletic teams placed them in the spotlight of national prominence and respect.

His football elevens have played teams from New York to New Orleans, he has worked long and hard in an honest effort to place the Bulldog athletic plant on a big-time basis. He has made huge strides in building up intramural athletics, attractive schedules for all teams have been arranged, he has inroduced and established the student manager system and many other forms of athletic endeavor for the benefit of the Butler students. Potsy is a friend to every loyal Bulldog student and as long as George Potsy Clark continues to guide the destinies of the Blue and White athletic endeavors, Butler can have nothing to look forward to but seeing their school becoming one of the greatest in the Middle West, if not in the entire country.

PAUL D. HINKLE—Head Basketball Coach

Paul "Tony" Hinkle, the wizard basketball mentor of the Bulldogs, who was a star three-letter winning athlete at the University of Chicago before coming to Butler climaxed a most sensational record this year by winning the National Basketball Title, the first time a Mid-Western college quintet has ever been declared National Champs in basketball. "Tony" is Potsy Clark's right hand man and while not coaching his eagers, assists in football, baseball and coaches the golf team.

Bob Nipper, Butler '26, starred in three sports while attending the University and now imparts his knowledge to the yearling football, basketball and baseball aspirants.

Nipper has taken many freshman athletes and turned them over to the varsity teams well coached and instructed in the Butler style of play. A man of fine character and personality, Bob is well liked by all the freshmen he comes in contact with on the athletic field.

HERMON PHILLIPS—Varsity Track Coach

Hermom "Flip" Phillips, Butler's greatest track man, who graduated in '27, won the National Collegiate quarter-mile title three consecutive years, something no other college runner has ever done. "Flip" also went with the Olympic team to Holland as a member of the 400 metre team and returned a point winner for Uncle Sam. Now at Fairview, the former Bulldog track ace shows the Bulldog varsity and freshman thinly-clads how to run and jump. Phillips also teaches physical education.

WILLIAM McClURE—Varsity Football Line Coach

William "Bill" McClure came from Coach Zuppke's Champion Illini football team to coach the Bulldog line this year and much of the credit for the line that held at New York and smashed Loyola of the South goes to Mac. A plugger and worker, McClure was a valuable addition to the Butler football coaching staff.

"WEE WILLIE" MCGILL—Varsity and Freshman Trainer

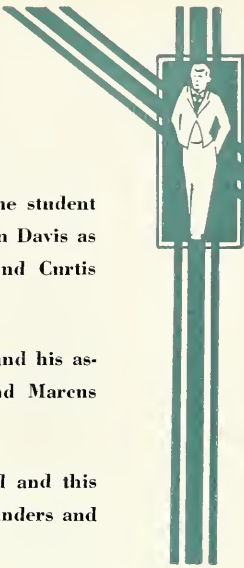

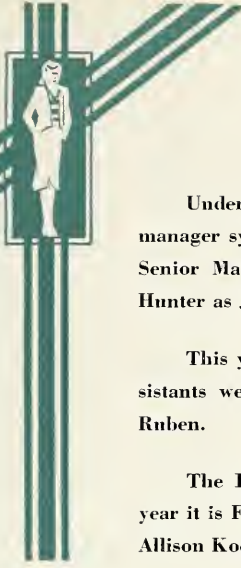

After spending seventeen years pitching in the Big Leagues, and coaching at Illinois and Northwestern, Wee Willie McGill came to Butler to keep Potsy Clark's athletes in shape, and has done such a good job with his finement and tape that injuries of a serious nature have been few and far between in the Bulldog camp.

RALPH L. HITCH—Graduate Manager of Athletics

Ralph Hitch, Butler '27, handles the publicity for the Bulldog teams and besides doing a thousand and one other jobs around the athletic office manages to score the games, keep records and play godfather to the homeless freshman athletes.

*First Row—George "Potsy" Clark, Paul D. Hinkle, Ralph Hitch.

The Student Managers

Under the athletic regime of Coach George Potsy Clark the student manager system in athletics was introduced in 1928 with Gordon Davis as Senior Manager of varsity football, assisted by John Eaton and Curtis Hunter as Junior Managers.

This year the senior football manager was Curtis Hunter, and his assistants were Tom Henderson, John Newby, Robert Hulse, and Marcus Ruben.

The 1928 varsity basketball manager was George C. Lloyd and this year it is Freddy Howenstine who has as his assistants, Frank Sanders and Allison Koelling.

Don Youel is the varsity track student manager; his assistant is William Guyton and Bob Steger is the student manager of intermural athletics.

The duties of the student manager are many and varied, he is responsible for all equipment both on the practice field and at games, he must keep all spectators off the field, look after the welfare of the Bulldogs and visiting teams, be able to tape and bandage, and many other sundry details.

The senior manager in way of remuneration receives a varsity sweater and manager's letter, makes all trips with the team and is directly responsible to the coach.

A committee composed of Gordon Davis, George Lloyd, Curtis Hunter and Harlan Hadley are now working on a set of rules and regulations for the Butler managers of the future. The rules will be modeled from information gathered from the student manager plan at Big Nine schools, and Eastern and Western colleges.

Cheer Leaders

Those loyal friends of Butler who attended the football and basketball games this year know that Butler students can and will yell. This year the student section displayed more pep and enthusiasm than ever before and the success of the howling and yelling team backers was due to the excellent ability of the Blue and White cheer-leaders.

Howard Ely, as captain, and Howard Crise, Maurice Boyd and George Lehman as assistants, were always there to help start the old Butler war song going or lead a yell and chant. They gave their best at Chicago, Greencastle, on the Monument steps, the Indiana Theater, in the Bowl and at the fieldhouse and all the pep sessions. So to the yell leader and his rambling, tumbling, peppy assistants we take our hats off as a live wire aggregation of spirit and noise makers. And ask the team if that doesn't help.

The Gridiron

(By GORDON DAVIS, Sports Editor)

The 1929 football season saw the Butler Bulldogs gain nation-wide recognition and respect in the athletic world by their playing ability against teams of the highest caliber in the East, the Middle West and the South. Coach George Potsy Clark's moleskin wearers played before more people than any other Bulldog eleven ever has. The team played in New York and Chicago, and in their own new Bowl met teams from New Orleans, La., and Lawrence, Kansas, in intersectional frays.

On the record of victories and defeats the Clarkmen broke even, winning four games and losing four. The Bulldogs triumphed over their time honored rivals, Wabash and DePauw, with comparative ease, in the season's opening encounter, the strong Illinois Wesleyan griders were turned back, and Thanksgiving day saw the Clark machine reach its greatest height of the season when a powerful backfield combined with a charging line to smother the Loyola eleven of New Orleans.

Haskell Indians, New York University and James Millikin gained decisions over Butler by one touchdown margins while Dick Hanley's powerful Northwestern Wildcats trimmed the Blue and White cleat wearers 13-0 in their second game of the schedule. In both the Haskell Indian and James Millikin games the men under Capt. Hosier outrushed their opponents in yardage and made more first downs, but nevertheless lost in the score column.

Several of Coach Potsy's warriors received favorable comment throughout the season for their outstanding ability on the chalk lines, both from the press and the stands. In the backfield the plunging, ripping "Curly"

Hinchman, the triple-threat artist John Cavosie, the elusive Bobby Jarrett and the hard blocking Capt. Hosier were always there giving their best for the team. The unsung heroes of the gridiron game, the linesmen, who made possible the backs long runs were, Jack Walsh and Bob Schopf at the tackles, who always got their men, Fran Roysie, an all-state end and one of the best pass receivers in the game, Jim Puett, defensive center par-excellence and Lewis Ruffli, fighting sophomore guard.

While, perhaps, these players gained more public recognition than their team mates it was that everlasting Bulldog fight and team play that made that extra yard when needed or held in the shadows of their goal posts, that carried the Blue and White eleven through a schedule with no soft spots on it.

BUTLER, 13—ILLINOIS WESLEYAN, 9

On the last Saturday in September the Clark-coached Butler Bulldogs made their first appearance of the season in the Bowl when they matched punts and passes with the Illinois Wesleyan aggregation.

The Wesleyan team presented a fast charging veteran line but they could not keep "Curly" Hinchman from making the first touchdown of the season early in the first quarter on an off tackle smash.

Capt. Hosier, Cavosie, Hinchman and Booz smashed off guard and tackle and around the ends for 13 first downs and 13 points for the afternoon's work while Prossie, Miller and Bodman scored a touchdown and place kick for the Wesleyan eleven. The hot afternoon found the linesmen working under a hard handicap, but Crosby, Fredenberg, Puett and McCarthy turned in stellar exhibitions of tackling and blocking.

BUTLER, 0—NORTHWESTERN, 13

The Bulldogs met their first defeat of the season at Dyche stadium before 40,000 spectators when a full strength Northwestern team with Hank Bruder, star halfback leading the attack and scoring all of the Hanley team's points outrushed their lighter opponents, the Bulldogs. However, though outscored the Bulldogs were not outfought and time again Jack Walsh and Frank Hedden broke through the heavy Purple forward wall to down a Wildcat back in his tracks. Lon Watford who took "Curly" Hinchman's place at fullback when the latter was hurt early in the second quarter played a plucky game stopping many a drive with his hard tackles.

Bruder crashed over for Northwestern's first touchdown, but Griffin's kick was wide. The half ended soon after with Northwestern leading 6-0.

Led by Moore, Hanley and Bruder, the Purple backs reeled off three first downs in rapid succession in the third quarter, and behind perfect interference on a triple pass play Bruder crossed the Bulldog goal for the second time and added the extra point.

Cavosie's punting, several of his boots carrying over sixty-five yards and his passing were the high lights of the Butler offense, while Roysie, Puett, Walsh, Hedden and Crosby did yeoman work in the line. While the Bulldogs made only three first downs the Wildcats claimed only four more.

BUTLER, 6—HASKELL INDIANS, 13

Home-coming Day found the Clarkmen entertaining the colorful Haskell Indians' eleven. The Bulldogs, handicapped by the loss of Booz and Hinchman who were on the sidelines from injuries received in the Northwestern setto, went down to defeat 13-6 after putting up a glorious comeback drive in the second half.

Led by Capt. Louis Weller, one of the most elusive backs ever seen in the Bowl, and Wilson Charles, husky fullback, the Redskins on long runs by Weller and line smashes by Charles pushed over a touchdown in the first quarter. A pass over the goal to the fleet Weller gave the Dietz coached team another six points in the second quarter.

The Bulldog gridders came back in the second half to push the Indians all over the field. Led by Cavosie, Jarrett, Allen and Royse the Blue soon shoved over a touchdown.

Breaks at critical points kept Butler from scoring again, but the Bulldogs gained 174 yards to Haskell's 131 yards and also made more first downs. In the second half Butler's line outcharged the Indians on every play and Walsh, Hedden, Schopf and Puett opened huge holes for their backs.

BUTLER, 6—NEW YORK UNIVERSITY, 13

Playing before a crowd of 25,000 football fans Coach Clark's eleven dropped a sensational battle to New York University, 13-6, in the huge Yankee stadium at New York.

The play of the Blue and White forward wall was the best of the year. Four times the Bulldog linemen stopped the New York backs when a few feet would have meant a touchdown. Puett and Royse were towers of strength in the play of the line, while Jack Walsh made one of the most sensational tackles of the game.

Hinchman and Booz were forced from the game early in the first quarter with injuries, but Hosier and Cavosie carried on. Cavosie's passing and kicking and Hosier's great defensive play were outstanding.

BUTLER, 13—DEPAUW, 0

Playing at Greencastle in a sea of mud Butler's fighting mad eleven, minus the services of four regulars defeated their old rivals, DePauw, 13-0 with straight football tactics. Gaining 281 yards to the Tiger's 84 by rushing and chalking up 17 first downs to 6 for their opponents the Clarkmen were never in danger.

Lon Watford, reserve fullback, who had replaced the injured Hinchman, was the Watford of two years ago, smashing over for both touchdowns and making tackles all over the field. Brock and Puett in the line and Reynolds, Hosier, and Yeazel as backs turned in good performances at their respective positions. Blake at fullback, Van Ripper and Hogan, flashy halfbacks, were the Methodist shining lights.

BUTLER, 14—WABASH, 0

The Bulldogs defeated their second Indiana foe, Wabash 14-0, to give them a clean slate over their ancient and time honored rivals, DePauw and Wabash.

The Cavemen presented a stubborn line and an elusive back in Weist, who gave the Butler ends trouble all afternoon. However when "Curly" Hinchman is right, no team can stop him and the Greenfield lad smashed the Little Giant forward wall time and again to help the Clarkmen outrush the Crawfordsville eleven 220 yds. to 96 yds. The Bulldogs also doubled the Wabash team in number of first downs made. Though Royce and McCarthy were on the side lines. Wolfe, Puett, Schopf, and Walsh carried on in the line to make it a perfect day for the Bulldog rooters.

BUTLER, 0—JAMES MILLIKIN, 6

On a heavy muddy field the Bulldogs lost to the Millikin eleven of the Illinois Little Nineteen Conference, 6-0, when Corbett, half back, passed to his left end, Arnett, early in the second quarter. The ball was on the eighteen yard line when the pass was made and had followed Millikin's recovery of a fumbled punt by the Butler safety man.

The Bulldogs started off like world beaters in the first quarter but after rushing the pigskin to the ten yard line, they wilted and Millikin outplayed the Bulldogs the rest of the game. Royce's punting with Hinchman's off tackle smashes were the shining lights of the Butler offense which netted eight first downs to Millikin's six.

For the visitors, the work of Corbett, Vise, Hankins and Heidenger in their backfield stood out.

backfield play in perfect unison to smash Loyola of New Orleans, conquerors of the Haskell Indians, by a 33-13 decision.

The Blue and White backs behind perfect interference smashed the Dixie team's line for yardage whenever called upon. Hinchman crashed over for two touchdowns; Cavosie after several beautiful long runs, scored two touchdowns and Royse hit right tackle for the fifth Bulldog six-spot. Jarrett made a sensational 43 yard return to a punt just before the end of the first half.

Walsh, at tackle, played the best game of his career on the ice-coated field and was ably assisted by Brock, Strahl, McCarthy and Schopf. Capt. Hosier directed his team well and led the interference with deadly effect.

The Wolf Pack scored their thirteen points in the first period when they unleashed a fast passing attack,

Freshman Football

When Coach Robert Nipper issued his call for freshmen gridiron candidates for the 1929 Bullpup eleven he was greeted by a squad of over half a hundred of the most likely looking future All-Americans that has been seen on the Bulldog practice gridiron in several years. The squad had weight, height and speed, and proved they knew football.

Under Coach Nipper's able direction the rhine eleven was molded into a smooth-working machine. The first year team played two games, losing their first encounter to the University of Louisville Yearlings in the Bowl by a 20 to 13 decision. Their second and final game saw the Nippermen run, plunge and pass to an 8-0 victory over the Varsity in the annual Varsity-Frosh conflict.

In the Louisville game the Southerners were behind by a touchdown until the last four minutes of play when they cut loose with a bewildering pass attack to clinch the game. The play of Captain Polizzotto, who scored all of the Bullpup points, Raber's defensive work, and Norris, Conrad and Kennerk in the line, were the Nipper team's best bets. The Cardinal stars were Payne, Boardman and Goldstein.

The frosh eleven finished the season in fine style when they thumped the Varsity 8-0. In this game of give and take, the all-around play of Raber, at fullback, Polizzotto at quarter, and Elser, Forbes, Norris, Mecum and Zimmerman in the forward wall was too much for their big brothers, the Varsity.

Several players on Coach Nipper's squad will prove of varsity caliber next fall and will give some regulars a tussle for their berths. They are Captain Polizzotto, Raber, Ennis, Skinner and Compton, backs; and English, Elser, Forbes, Mecum, Zepesi, Jefferies, Norris and Conrad, linesmen.

Varsity Basketball

Butler's basketball team took a rocky road last season, but were successful in winning twelve games out of nineteen played. A check over the victories shows quintets of such national repute as Purdue, Big Ten champions, Illinois, Chicago, Montana State, the only other team which defeated the Boiler Makers, Vanderbilt and Nebraska. Three state rivals, DePauw, Wabash, and Danville, fell before coach Hinkle's netters.

Early in December coach Hinkle started to build his 1930 net machine from a crew of thirty varsity candidates. He had five veterans, Capt. Hildebrand, Hosier, Allen, and Christopher, seniors, and Reynolds, a junior. The rest were sophomores. After working hard for two weeks, the squad opened the season with Manchester and N. A. G. U. in a double header at the fieldhouse. Manchester was unable to control Oral Hildebrand, who led the Blue to a 53-22 walkaway. The reserves won their contest from Normal, 20-17.

Purdue was expected to walk over Butler when Piggy Lambert brought his squad here for the first holiday game. The thrilling game of the previous year which Butler had annexed by one point was a bitter draught for the Boilermakers. Purdue followers looked to "Stretch" Murphy, who had been so ably taken care of the year before by Bill Bugg. But a combination of Hildebrand, Allen, Christopher, Hosier and Tackett completely baffled the visitors in a fast game. While Hildebrand, Allen and Christopher were busy boosting Butler's tally, Hosier and Tackett tightened their defense about the Blue and White basket. Tackett's great floor game held Murphy to three points, all scored from the foul circle. The final score was 36-29, Butler.

Third Row—Nipper, Fred Howenstine, Student Manager; Gale Collins, William Haslet, Hitch, McGill and Coach Paul Hinkle.

Montana State's Bobcats, champions of the Rocky Mountain Conference, were next to bow. They had an offensive team and could not catch the swing of Butler's delayed offensive. The 49-32 victory for Butler was marked by the brilliance of Thomson, spectacular Montana center.

The Bulldogs continued their holiday spree by trimming Vanderbilt university, 39-14. The southerners had a heavier team, but could not match the shiftiness of the Butler stars.

By this time sport critics throughout the country looked to Butler as leader of the Hoosier net crop. But they overlooked a smaller team—Danville Normal. The Hinklemen went to Danville confident and determined. They had every right to be. But coach Russell Cook's team, led by the Reeves brothers, had been scouting Butler in the previous four games. They had their surprise package ready, and it turned out to be a bombshell. The score was 40-16, but that mattered little. It was the first defeat, and it hurt.

Babe Cristopher

Wilbur Allen

Butler took revenge in the four games that followed by downing Nebraska, Illinois, Chicago and Wabash. Then came another road disaster at Franklin. A week later Danville came to the field-house and eight thousand people watched Butler break Central Normal's string of victories. De-Pauw took a trimming the following Saturday in their own gym.

Loyola University of Chicago sent an all-star club, undefeated for two years, to Indianapolis. They gave an exhibition of some fine basketball,

Marshall Tacket

Lefty Evans

Curly Hinchman

Howard Chadd

playing Butler hard under the basket to win 22-14. Their flashy center, Murphy, was the best ball player who appeared on the home floor this year. Evansville did not furnish much opposition and gave Hildebrand and Hosier their last chance to perform.

Here is where the detour started. Ineligibility, sickness, and graduation cut Capt. Hildebrand, Hosier, and Wolfe from the squad. This happened the day before the Wabash game, and the visit to Crawfordsville brought a 16-14 defeat. Notre Dame outplayed Butler on the following Friday, but a trip to Earlham was successful. Returning to Notre Dame the Bulldogs were again defeated. Franklin closed the season by dropping the Hinklemen.

Lyle Withrow

Cleon Reynolds

Roger Anderson

At the annual basketball banquet held in the Indianapolis Athletic Club, Coach Hinkle gave a diagnosis of Butler's weakness. Had there been more individual cleverness, and more offensive strength, the season might have ended differently. However, the year brought recognition from the Veteran Athletes Association of Philadelphia. This organization awarded Butler the National Championship in basketball for 1929, an honor which will never be surpassed by any Blue athletic team.

Letter awards announced at the banquet were given to Maurice Hosier, Marshall Christopher, Wilbur Allen, seniors; Cleon Reynolds, junior; Marshall Tackett and Lyle Withrow, sophomores. Hubert Hinchman and Howard Chadd received minor awards.

Freshman Basketball

While storm clouds threatened the varsity, Coach Bob Nipper's freshman basketball team found smoother sailing. They won all four of their games played by comfortable margins, trouncing Louisville 27-12 here, and 32-11 there; pounced upon State Normal at the fieldhouse for a 40-23 victory, and left DePauw a lasting souvenir by collecting 39 points to the Methodists' 16.

As usual, an almost unwieldy squad answered Nipper's first call issued in December. Out of the forty-odd men who anticipated wearing numerals, only twelve were to receive this distinction. Nipper soon cut the squad to fifteen after giving everyone a trial.

Individual cleverness lacking on the varsity was an asset to the rhinie netmen. Among the former high school stars whom Hinkle will probably use in the next three years are: Earl Elser and Sam Polizotto, Gary; Ephriam Schreiber, Greensburg, and Jack Hill, Bert Davis and Ben Parrish, Technical.

Track

Butler gained national recognition during the late winter and early spring months of 1930 as the swift heels of Bulldog trackmen kicked up cinder dust at prominent relay carnivals held in the north, south, east, and west. Coach Hermon Phillips had worked for three years to produce a team equal to the famous 1925 squad.

The indoor season was opened on February 1st with a dual meet between Butler and Notre Dame at South Bend. In this meet Bert Nelson, sensational sophomore star, broke the world's indoor record of 6 feet 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches held by Harold Osborne and established in 1922. On his third attempt Nelson cleared the bar at 6 feet 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ with inches to spare. The medley relay team composed of Capt. Joe Sivak, Ray Urbain, Berwyn Jones and Edwin Allen established a new gym record of 8:20 2-5.

On the following week-end Coach Phillips accompanied Sivak, Nelson, and Jones to New York where they made their eastern debut. Sivak placed third in the John Wanamaker Mile behind Ray Conger, I. A. C. star, and Orville Martin, Purdue flash. Nelson defeated Bob King, 1928 Olympic champion, with a leap of 6 feet 4 inches. Jones failed to place in the two mile run.

On March 15th the team trekked to Champaign to compete in the Illinois Relays against the leading universities in the middle west. The medley relay team finished second behind Marquette. Sivak came from behind running the best mile of his career in 4:16. Bert Nelson won the high jump with a jump of 6 feet 5 inches, defeating Shelby of Oklahoma, Shaw of Wisconsin and other celebrities. Lloyd Stearns, versatile sophomore athlete, placed seventh in the all-around championships. Barney Berlinger, of Pennsylvania, established a new record in this event.

The improvement shown by the relay teams warranted a trip to the Texas Relays at Austin and Dallas, March 28th and 29th. This is the first time since 1925 that the Blue have been represented in the famous relays of the Southwest. Coach Phillips took Sivak, Allen, Jones, Urbain, Kistler, and Nelson to the carnival. The four mile relay team, made up of Sivak, Jones, Kistler and Urbain, scored a double victory, defeating Wisconsin, Nebraska, Texas, and Oklahoma. As a reward for their performances, the victors brought home two beautiful placques. Nelson won the high jump at Southern Methodist University in Dallas when he jumped 6 feet 4 inches.

April 5th was the inaugural date of the new quartermile oval behind the field house. Butler celebrated this event by emerging victorious in a triangular meet between Indiana Central, Indiana State Teachers, and Butler. The Bulldogs piled up 84 points, while Indiana Central was second with 28 1-3, and Indiana State Teachers third with 21 2-3. In this meet Edwin Allen established a record which will probably stand for some time when he stepped the century in :9.8. The team collected firsts in the mile run, 440, two mile, low hurdles, high jump, 220, and 100 yard dash. Their only weak spot seemed to be in the pole vault.

On April 12th Butler defeated Earlham College for the first time in five years by a 78½ to 39½ margin. The Bulldogs had trained for this meet and were well fortified in all events. In this meet a new star was uncovered when Hubert Hinchman broad jumped 22 feet 2 inches. Jude Strahl, Kenneth Booz and Lloyd Stearns were outstanding in the field events.

April 26th saw the Bulldogs represented at the twenty-first annual Drake Relays held at Des Moines, (Ia.) The medley team placed third while the four mile relay team was second, again trailing Marquette. The winners set up a new Drake record of 18:06 2-5ths for the four mile jaunt. On the same day the remainder of the team had an engagement with

N. A. G. U. at the Fairview oval. The Blue tracksters found little difficulty in overcoming the gymnasts 89-37. Lloyd Stearns and Jude Strahl tied for high point honors, each gathering 16 markers. Eugene Kniseley and Ray Brock, who had been running one-two all season, again scored in the low hurdles.

Following the Drake Relays, the team represented Butler at the Ohio Relays, the Little State Meet which was held here for the first time, the State Meet at Notre Dame, Central Intercollegiate at Marquette, and the National Intercollegiates at Chicago.

Butler's prospects for a successful season next year are exceptionally bright as none of the varsity men graduate, and the team will be greatly strengthened by several freshman stars.

Rhiney thinly clads who will probably get their share of limelight next year are Earl Elser, Ralph Mecum, Chester Meinert, Bob Crawford, Steve Hadley, and William Reeves.

Donald Youel, a junior, managed the varsity cinder squad throughout the season. Ed Horner and Thad Schoen managed the freshmen.

Intramural Football

For the fifth successive year Phi Delta Theta captured the football championship after a hard fight. To reach the final games the Phi Deltas defeated Lambda Chi Alpha, Delta Tau Delta and Tau Kappa Tau.

Lambda Chi played a tie game with the Phi Deltas with the score 0 to 0 but when the two teams met again the Phi Deltas won a 19 to 0 victory. The Deltas were easily defeated by a score of 20 to 0. The Phi Delt back-field men ran all over the place in scoring a 25 to 0 victory over the Tau Kappa Taus.

It took two games for the Phi Deltas to show their superiority to the Sigma Chi eleven. The first game was a hotly contested affair which ended in a 0 to 0 tie. In the second fray Phi Delta Theta won a close victory by a 6 to 0 score, to win the intramural championship. The winners had the distinction of not being scored upon for the entire season which was most noteworthy. Charles Sohl, George Cecil and Ralph Walton were the outstanding ball carriers for the Phi Deltas.

The winning team was composed of Kemper and Wilde, ends; Brandt, Dienhart, tackles; Winkleman, Butterworth, guards; and Baxter, center. The backfield was composed of Cecil or King at quarter, Myers, Geisert or Walton at half with Sohl at full back.

Intramural Basketball

Twelve basketball teams carried on a six-weeks campaign under the direction of Robert Nipper and Robert Steger for the intramural basketball championship and 1000 points toward the intramural sports plaque.

The teams were divided into two leagues, and the winners in each league met to decide first and second place, while the second place winners in each league met to decide third place. Phi Delta Theta, winner in League No. 2, defeated Delta Tau Delta for first place and 1,000 points. Delta Tau Delta received 500 points and Delta Alpha Pi, second place winner in League No. 1, defeated Lambda Chi Alpha for third place and 250 points.

To reach the final game, Phi Delta Theta defeated Lambda Chi Alpha, Ulens, Utes, Tau Kappa Tau and Chi Rho Zeta, all entrants in League No. 2. Delta Tau Delta had previously defeated Delta Alpha Pi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, Kappa Delta Rho and the College of Religion.

The final game was hotly contested, and featured by close guarding. The score at the half was 5 all, and the Phi Deltas only pulled away in the last few minutes to win by 16 to 10. Booz of the Phi Deltas was the high point man and outstanding player. Six of the ten points made by the Deltas were scored from the free throw line.

The contest for third place was marred by Lambda Chi's inability to hit the basket. Play was exceedingly fast, and the final score was 21 to 12. Smith of Lambda Chi Alpha kept his team in the running.

In the final reckoning, Phi Delta Theta was credited with six victories and no defeats, Delta Tau Delta with five wins against one defeat, and Delta Alpha Pi with five wins and two losses.

The season standing in the two leagues was as follows:

LEAGUE No. 1		LEAGUE No. 2

THE BUTLER SWIMMING POOL

MISS LOUISE SCHULMEYER

MISS SUSIE HARMON

Women's Athletics

Under the guidance of Miss Louise Schulmeyer and her assistant, Miss Susie Harmon, women's athletics have increased in popularity and value this year.

The new athletic plant at Fairview, which wasn't completed until the second semester last year, was ready for immediate use with its excellent gymnastic facilities at the beginning of the fall semester.

A varied group of sports was offered during the year. Swimming, volleyball, apparatus and floorwork were given in the fall; with basketball clogging and advanced gym coming in the winter. Spring brings baseball, archery, riflery, tennis and track.

A class in basketball technique was offered this year for those interested in bettering their game as well as for those who wanted to learn to play.

Swimming although not compulsory proved to be quite a popular sport with the coeds throughout the year. Classes were held for beginners, intermediates and advanced swimmers, and a life saving class was conducted for those interested in passing their senior life saving test. Mrs. Fred Roadcap was swimming instructor and Ruth Pahud acted as student assistant and life guard. A system of points was worked out so that when a student showed improvement, she was given points the number depending upon which class swimmer she was.

WOMAN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Woman's Athletic Association at Butler was founded for the purpose of promoting a higher efficiency among the women of the university by fostering an interest in the Physical Education Department and to promote school spirit and fellowship. The chapter here is affiliated with the national organization of W. A. A.

Before any girl is eligible to have her name brought up for membership, she must be enrolled in the department, if an underclassman or if a junior or senior she must have her required number of credits in gym, and she must have earned fifty points according to the point system of the association. To remain a member she must gain fifty additional points each semester. In this way the members are compelled to take part in some sport to retain membership. Points are given for participation on class and varsity teams in the various seasonal sports, high point girl and runner up in the track meet, final and semi-final winner of tennis tournament, taking extra hours of gym, swimming achievements and for hiking.

Each year the Schulmeyer basketball cup is awarded at the end of the inter-sorority basketball series which W. A. A. sponsors, to the team with the highest average. Kappa Alpha Theta, with a perfect record in this season's games, was awarded permanent possession of the cup by winning it for the third successive year. Delta Gamma placed second in this season's trophy race with only one defeat.

ASSOCIATION MEMBERS

A tennis tournament, which is open to any girl in school desiring to enter, is held late in the spring. The tourney had not yet gotten under way when the Drift went to press.

Awards are made annually on June Day. A sweater is given to girls who have acquired one thousand points, and a monogram to those with a total of seven hundred points. This year only three girls succeeded in getting the required number of points. Ruth Robison, senior, received the sweater award, Ereil Askren, senior, a monogram and Constance Glover, junior, a monogram.

ORGANIZATIONS

Interfraternity Council

Two representatives from each large campus fraternity make up the Interfraternity Council, which has as its purpose the maintenance of harmony among the component organizations. Regulation of intramural sports and the administration of extra-curricular and social activities are among the functions of the council.

Representation is limited to national fraternities and locals with a membership of twenty-five or more. The meetings are held weekly at the various chapter houses. Various social affairs for the organized men are given under the auspices of the council during the year, and each season the fraternities contest for cups and awards in the major sports.

The Interfraternity Council has served a valuable purpose in preserving friendship among the campus organizations and administering the interfraternity business satisfactorily. Ignatius Dienhart is president and Richard Fogarty is secretary. Harlan Hadley has charge of intramural sports.

Stray Greeks

On an October afternoon at a meeting of all fraternity men on the Butler campus who were members of various Greek letter societies from other colleges, but whose fraternity was not represented on the Fairview campus, the Stray Greek organization was formed. The organization believed to be the only one of its kind in the United States selected for its officers A. Donald Wiles, as president, Joseph Thomas, vice-president, and Eldred Johnston, secretary-treasurer. The faculty sponsor is George Potsy Clark.

The Stray Greeks were organized for the purpose of creating a bond of friendship and brotherly feeling among the fraternity men on the campus who are orphans from their social fraternity. Composed of twelve charter members, the Stray Greeks meet every Wednesday noon at the Campus Club. The organization has no secrets or closed meetings. In social life the members attend all athletic games in a group, give various school welfare contests and plan to give a spring dance at the Athletic Club.

Charter members of the Alpha chapter of the Stray Greek organization and the fraternities they represent are:

- A. Donald Wiles, Theta Chi, U. of Illinois.
- Joseph R. Thomas, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Wabash.
- Eldred Johnston, Kappa Alpha, Bethany College.
- Mayburn Landgraf, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Indiana.
- Tom Hubbard, Phi Kappa Psi, Indiana.
- Leonard Herrington, Theta Chi, Purdue.
- Harold G. Elsam, Kappa Alpha, Bethany College.
- Clayton Goe, Kappa Alpha, Bethany College.
- Sam Griffith, Beta Theta Pi, U. of Michigan.
- Edward Harris, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Amherst.
- Frank Goode, Beta Theta Pi, Hanover.
- George Potsy Clark, Delta Upsilon, U. of Illinois, sponsor.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan-Hellenic Association was organized among the various sororities in 1914, with the purpose of unifying the interests of the sororities, regulating rush conditions and promoting fellowship democracy among organized women. Each sorority is represented by a junior and a senior delegate. Meetings are held on the first Monday afternoon in each month at the various sorority houses.

The offices of president and secretary-treasurer rotate among the representatives of the organizations in the order of their establishment on the campus. Ruth Triller was president the first semester, and Rosemary Bretzman the second. Rosemary Bretzman was secretary-treasurer the first semester, and Shirley Nelson the second.

Pan-Hellenic council has held two dances this year; a formal in the fall semester and an informal subscription dance in the spring. The council also sponsored a bridge party the second semester.

The Dean of Women's Council of National Sorority Presidents

The Dean of Women's Council of National Sorority Presidents was organized for the purpose of promoting understanding and acquaintance among the presidents of the different groups and of affording opportunity for the discussion of problems of mutual interests. The officers for 1929-30 are: Eleanor Hadd, president, and Maja Brownlee, secretary.

This year's accomplishments of the Council of Presidents have been: the formation of a card index containing information concerning sororities for the use of Butler students or those preparing to enter Butler university, the sponsoring of a meeting for freshman girls at the beginning of each semester to acquaint them with some of the outstanding university institutions and organizations, the re-establishment of Dads' Day Luncheon, and the re-establishment of sorority exchange dinner night.

Meetings of the Council are held once a month and are preceded by a dinner or luncheon. At the first meeting in the fall the Council members are guests of Miss Butler and at the final meeting in the spring the Sorority Presidents for the next year are the guests of the Council.

DEAN JAMES A. ROHBACH, A. M., LL. D.

THE LAW

JURIS PRAECEPTA SUNT HAEC, HONESTE VIVERE, ALTERUM NON LAEDERE, SUUM CUIQUE TRIBUERE

Surely a philosophy or system of ethics, in which "to live honestly (honorably), not to harm another, and to give to each one his own," is worthy of our serious thought and study. "The precepts of the law are these."

Possibly no higher tribute has been paid to any philosophy, than has been paid to the Law. Dr. Johnson said, "Law is the science in which the greatest powers of the understanding are applied to the greatest number of facts." Edmund Burke adds his tribute in these words, "The science of jurisprudence is the pride of the human intellect, which, with all its defects, redundancies and errors, is the collected reason of the ages, combining the principles of original justice with the infinite variety of human concerns."

“There is not, in my opinion, in the whole compass of human affairs so noble a spectacle as that which is displayed in the progress of jurisprudence; where we may contemplate the cautious and unwearied exertions of wise men through a long course of ages, withdrawing every case, as it arises, from the dangerous power of discretion, and subjecting it to inflexible rules, extending the dominion of justice and reason, and gradually contracting within the narrowest possible limits the domain of brutal force and arbitrary will.” (Sir James Mackintosh).

In this day of liberalism in education, in this day of the far outreaching of college curricula, when it seems nothing, however unusual, is under any rule of exclusion, or thought improper to offer to the youth of the land, as part of a liberal education, or, as not essential in the matter of a full and comprehensive preparation for success in life, surely, a “science which distinguishes the criterions of right and wrong; which teaches to establish the one, and prevent, punish or redress the other; which employs in its theory the noblest faculties of the soul and exerts in its practice the cardinal virtues of the heart; a science which is universal in its use and extent, accommodated to each individual, yet comprehending the whole community,” is worthy of our serious thought and study.

Such a science is the Law. And “of law there can be no less acknowledged than that her seat is in the bosom of God, her voice the harmony of the world.”

DEAN ROHBACH.

Autographs

The beauty of Jordan Hall, Fairview, and the Campus, enhanced by that of the Canal, will remain forever with Butler students as one of the pleasant memories of their College days.

While "the Canal" is known to most residents of Indianapolis, few seem to realize its vital function in the life of the city.

To aid commerce between the Wabash River, near Wabash, and Evansville, on the Erie Canal, the State of Indiana began construction of this 210 mile waterway, the "Central Canal," in 1836.

However, the invention of the steam engine and the development of railroads offered superior transportation service before completion of the project, and resulted in its abandonment.

Today the only remaining portion of this ambitious project is the nine mile section of Canal, between Broad Ripple Dam and Washington Pumping Station, which in 1869 became the property of the Indianapolis Water Company.

In the intervening years it has served dependably and efficiently as an important part of the public water supply system—conveying water from White River at Broad Ripple to the Purification Plant near Twenty-first Street and also furnishing power for hydraulically operated pumps at the Washington Station.

Getting The Right Start

The important part performed by an active, substantial, progressive business college is to furnish the specific training needed to assure ambitious young people of getting the right start. It fills the gap, or forms the connecting link, between a good, rounded-out general education and promising positions in business. This is the Indiana Business College of Indianapolis. The others are at Marion, Muncie, Logansport, Anderson, Kokomo, Lafayette, Columbus, Richmond and Vincennes. ORA E. BUTZ, President.

Constantly Searching

FOR centuries astronomers have looked into the skies searching for new worlds, constellations and stars. Aside from their interesting research work, they have learned much that is of practical scientific value.

Similarly, in the field of student publications, the Indianapolis Engraving Company searches constantly for new ideas, plans and methods that will assist year-book staffs to publish successfully books characteristic of their school and community. The results of these efforts are gratifying.

BUTLER UNIVERSITY

INDIANAPOLIS

Summer Session 1930

June 16 to August 9

ATTRACTIVE SURROUNDINGS

The Summer Session will utilize the beautiful new two hundred and forty acre Fairview Park campus. The commodious and attractive Jordan Memorial Halls with their up-to-date equipment of classrooms and laboratories furnish excellent opportunities for study and research.

COLLEGE CREDIT

All the work is of standard college grade. Credits may apply on college degrees. Students may make a maximum of nine semester hours credit. Teachers and college students will find the work particularly adapted to their needs.

Courses meet the requirements of the Indiana licensing law.

CAPITAL CITY ADVANTAGES

BUTLER UNIVERSITY is centrally located and easily accessible. The city of Indianapolis offers many attractions through its churches, libraries, parks, stores and theatres. Rooms and boarding places may be had in the vicinity of the College at reasonable rates.

The detailed announcement of the Summer Session, giving full information regarding courses, fees and academic credit, will be mailed on application. Send for one.
